September 2020

News

Seminar participants had a chance to learn how to use activities, materials and database designed at the project. List of participants included educators, teachers, professional associates in schools and kindergartens, principals, representatives of educational institutions and civil society and volunteers working with children.

The interest for participation was big, work and discussion was fruitful and encouraging and the seminars were evaluated excellently.

Therefore, we believe our results will reach a wide range of professionals working in teaching Croatian, Slovenian and Macedonian languages and literacy development.

Fourth and final intellectual output of the DEAL project, Manual for teachers and educators, is finalised and available on the project's website.

All project results are available on the project's website: <https://project-deal.eu>
